

CHATEAU HAUT-BRION

PREMIER GRAND CRU CLASSÉ EN 1855

1993 Vintage

The Climate

A warm spring brought on early budding. Through June, the weather was very good. The flowering was uniform. After a bout of cold weather August was pretty warm. August makes the must is a local adage. The grapes were remarkably healthy and ripened well. The rainy weather with one or two storms did not affect them at all.

Tasting notes

Our fulfillment and satisfaction are great considering this vintage. The colour is deep and constant. The nose is typical of Haut-Brion with the intense ripe aroma of red berries. The tannins are rich and soft. The wine is complex and perfectly balanced. It's an extremely good Haut-Brion.
